

Resources for Exploring Theology Session 6

Below are the Optional resources for Session 6. There are fewer than normal as there is only a week between sessions.

Optional Resources

Something to watch:

This is the final video with Paula Gooder and Rowan Williams. Here they explore why does the Christian faith matter?

And here are two things to listen to:

Here's an interview with Sam Wells where he discusses Improvisation as a way of approaching Christian ethics. The interview starts at 16m 30s: <https://www.nomadpodcast.co.uk/sam-wells-improvising-faith-n223/>. The interview lasts about an hour. Either side the hosts chat about various things, including the interview with Sam itself. No need to listen to those bits unless you want to.

In our previous session I mentioned the writer Francis Spufford: <https://www.seenandunseen.com/re-enchanting-reading-and-writing>. This episode comes from Seen and Unseen who have lots of interesting articles, videos and podcasts that focus on faith in the public domain.

And three final things to watch

Two recordings of Lullaby of Birdland:

- 1) Ella Fitzgerald and Duke Ellington and his Orchestra

<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=dDMIRxnHdhc>

and 2): Sarah Vaughan

<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=x8cFdZyWOOs> and 3) Charlie Parker (instrumental)

<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=PRM1Ccl1kt0>